

WEBSITE UPDATE

We have been working hard recently to update our website. The main changes you will find are:

- Latest version of the ADI starter pack
- New page 'How to Apply' guiding new applicants through the registration process to become a driving instructor
- Distance learning Theory & Hazard Perception training for Part 1 combining on-line practice and mock tests with one-to-one tutoring with Hazel.
- Updated links to the new Gov.uk & DSA website
- Updated Driver/Rider Training standard

HAZEL MOVES TO BOGNOR

Hazel Jones is now happily settled in Bognor Regis and we now offer instructor training in that area. In addition Hazel can also offer:

- 1 day, weekend and residential crash courses for instructor training
- ORDIT trainer courses

THEORY & HAZARD PERCEPTION TRAINING

By combining on-line practice and mock tests through our website with distance learning tutoring sessions with Hazel, we have managed to drastically reduce the cost of our training for Part 1. For more details contact:

HAS YOUR LICENCE EXPIRED?

There are over 1.7 million expired driving licences in circulation and some ADI's have been told by police or their insurance company that they are no longer eligible to drive. However, DVLA have advised that an out of date photocard licence does not impact on your right to drive as it is an administrative breach of the regulations. The expiry date is listed at point 4a on your photocard licence.

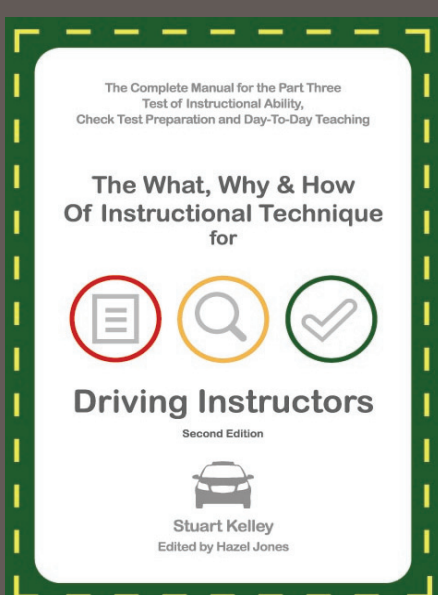

MANDATORY THEORY & PRACTICAL LESSONS?

Here are a few interesting statistics from Europe:
Germany - 32 hours of compulsory theory tuition + 2 years of tuition before pupils can take a driving test.
Portugal - 30 hours of theory training + minimum of 32 hours practical.
Spain - hoping to extend test to 25 minutes and introduce show me/tell me!
